BIOGRAPHICAL FOREWORD

1. What does a counselor exist to do? (#4)
2. How should a counselor bring a person to the truth of a situation? (#4)
3. What can solve the majority of personal problems of a congregation? (#5)
4. How can knowing about the author of a book create interest and learning? (#7)

Ch. 1 GENERAL CONSIDERATION

Read Psalm 42

1. What does the footnote of the ESV in Psalm 42:5 say that the phrase “my salvation” is literally? What other verse does the ESV translate the same way? (Bible)¹
2. Where does spiritual depression show most visibly according to Lloyd-Jones? (p. 13)
3. What is the solution for a sad face? (p. 13)
4. How does one’s temperament make a difference in the diagnosis of problems in the Christian life? (p. 15) What examples parallel this in diet and exercise?
5. Define an introvert and an extrovert. (pp. 16-17)
6. What is the difference between examining one’s self and introspection? (p. 17)
7. How does physical weakness affect the Christian in battle with the devil? (p. 19)
8. What is the cause of all spiritual depression? Who is a person listening to when they have spiritual depression? (p. 20)
9. To be cured of spiritual depression, what should we do instead of listening to ourselves? (p. 20-21)

¹ The English Standard Version of the Bible 2001 edition is used in this study for reference. Lloyd-Jones used the KJV. The ESV parallels the KJV closely enough to make comparable notes, while offering an up-to-date translation of the Hebrew and Greek manuscripts. Where the ESV differs from the KJV in the book, this study guide attempts to note.
